Key Insights (company-wide)

- Sales has the highest attrition (20.6%) despite the highest average pay ($6,959 monthly). But Sales Representatives earn just $2,626 and leave at nearly 40%, so the problem is role-specific, not department-wide.
- Leavers earn about 30% less ($4.8K vs. $6.8K monthly) and leave about 2 years earlier (5.1 vs. 7.4 years average tenure) than employees who stay.
- Single employees leave at 25.5%, about twice the rate of married (12.5%) or divorced (10.1%) employees.
- Lab Technicians leave at 23.9%, even though R&D as a whole is below average (13.8%), so department averages can hide high-risk roles.
- Employees aged 18–24 leave at 39%, more than twice the company rate, and attrition drops sharply after 35.
